

The Ant and the Grasshopper

Purple Hippo

Part I

Grassy Hopper spent his long summer days
Come rain or shine or smoggy heat haze
Perfecting his play on his old violin
Perfecting his Bach and his Beethoven
And other composers, eclectic and various
He nailed them all down on his old Stradivarius

They say Grassy Hopper was at one with his bow
And his beautiful music filled up the meadow
He played for the lilies and the flowers of the field
The marching band, confused, did they yield
Everyone heard as they went on, enraptured
Everyone's ears and souls had been captured
All except one, who muttered and grumbled
As he sweated and laboured and dragged and he stumbled
All except one, who would pant and would rant
The one, Mr Anthony Laborious Ant

He had no time for music or song
Anty worked hard the whole summer long
Summer was no time for playing or rest
Summer was prime time for filling his nest
With anything edible, for these words he said
Get working! An incredible winter's ahead!
This field that you see will be all rain and ice
There won't be a leaf or one small grain of rice
If I had some bones I would feel it in them
It's boiling right now, but will be minus ten!

But Grassy was one who just would not listen
Grassy played on with his musical mission
He just did not see when the crowns of the trees
Had yellows and reds and browns in their leaves
He just did not hear when down from the hill
The north wind came whistling down with a chill
He just did not notice when he played a lament
That the field had grown empty, grey and silent

Till a November day when it started to snow
And the flakes made a crust on the top of his bow
And the ice crept in lines between his long fingers
He finally saw there was no time to linger

It was time to be out of the ice and the snow
But where on that earth could a cold Hopper go?
He also then noticed that his stomach was aching
And from down in a hole came the wafting of baking
Yes, someone down there was making pie and panini

I wonder if they'll trade for a wry Paganini?
Perhaps my delightful Caprice Number 5
Might be the ticket to keep me alive
If I play them my Number 24
I think they will surely open the door!

Alas, a blast on his old violin
Was not the key to find his way in
It was Anthony's door and I'm sure you have guessed
He had little welcome for an unwelcome guest

All summer I warned you, every damned morning
All summer you ignored my every warning!
Each hot, sticky day when I slaved away
You stayed in the shade and you sat and you played
You lazed and you made your screech and your din
Well, I'm here to teach you that sloth is a sin
You've been a fool and you've made your bed
Now go lie in it and lay down your head
You've been very lazy, now you'll pay the price
Go lie yourself down in a bed made of ice!

Part II

And Grassy crawled off through the ice and the snow
Knowing he had just one place to go
To the nearest train station, to get some wi-fi
There's one thing to do before I do die
The end is now near, death by exposure
Alas, I have had a dearth of exposure
My ending is near, my pockets are bare
The one thing I have, my work, I will share

His smartphone was dying, his battery low
He played one last time, alone in the snow
Vivaldi's Four Seasons (Winter), of course
Such perfect control, such delicate force!

You know, I read my Gladwell's 'Outliers'
And I truly put in my ten thousand hours
I worked like an ant to get this mastery
And so I will share, then become history

He went on to Youtube and clicked to upload
And crawled into a drain at the side of the road
He lay hypothermic, but didn't quite go
The warmth of a sewer seeped up from below

His shivers awoke him at quarter to six
His fingers were shaking as he checked on his hits
His eyes nearly popped off when they saw the news
His insect Vivaldi had one million views!

Ringing Google headquarters, down San Jose way
He said, Look, I need quarters, could you send right away?
My account's nearly red, at best it's the minimum
Could you help me right now, I'm near Western Union?

They said, 'Yes, Mr Hopper we can send right away!
If you can wait half an hour, you will surely be paid!

Oh, joy! Oh, joy! This will keep me alive!
I think I will thank them, I think I'll play live
I can't believe that I am not dreaming!
I'm here alive and California streaming!
On such a winter's day!
'Ode to joy' is the one I will play

And half an hour later, he got his greenbacks
Two thousand or more, stacked on his green back
He hopped off with care and said with a grin
When the next batch arrives, call The Holiday Inn!
I've already called them, they'll serve any fauna
Breakfast buffet for one on a plate in the sauna

And that's where he stayed, from November to April
Recording new clips that all became viral
The public adored him, they just could not believe
This green jumping insect and his take on 'Greensleeves'
His Bach and his Mozart, he knew every tune
They took him to heart and they made his fortune

He played the Royal Albert and they made him a Lord
They flew him to New York when he topped the Billboard
He hopped on to Zurich to watch his best team
His half-time concerto became his next meme
For I'm a Grasshopper and believe this if you can
I'm your greatest supporter, but not a big fan

And the snows slowly melted and the sun did return
The glamour was nice but really he yearned
To play once again on his famous home turf
The place he loved most upon the round Earth
He went back to play in his own field of dreams
To be the soundtrack in that bucolic scene

Part III

He arrived on a tour bus, it had to be large
There was a film crew and his own entourage
When the word got around, he drew quite a crowd
And the buzz of excitement grew rather loud
With volume sufficient to wake an old ant
Who hated the noise and started to rant
And he really started to holler and shout
When he realised what it was all about
His mouth turned down, his eyes burned green
He muttered something quite obscene

*And, What is this fuss, oh, what can it be!
That lazy bones is much richer than me!!
I thought that he had paid his price
I thought that he had died in ice
But now he's right here, so rich and so famous
It just is not fair, there just is no justice!*

*You know, I read my Gladwell's 'Outliers'
And I truly put in my ten thousand hours
I am the master of transportation
I am the one who deserves an ovation!*

*The hoi polloi are, Oh, so, so gullible!
For it is I who is The One, most incredible!
I'm smaller than him, but I can carry two bricks
That Hopper is no match for me and my tricks
Now I'll make some clips and get them uploaded
I'll show them what I can do when I am loaded
Just wait till they see me, I'm beyond belief
I can carry two twigs, a wand and a leaf
I can't wait to see when he's knocked off his perch
When the public see me, he'll be left in the lurch
For I am the doozer, I'm the go-getter
'Cos anything he can do, I can do better
I can do anything better than him!
I'll go on Youtube and I'm going to win!*

His first little clip upon his smartphone
Was entitled 'Great Ant and Small Stone'
He carried the stone about half a mile Uploaded the vid and gave it a while
He watched it once, he watched it twice
It had two views, so he got some rice
He piled it up three grains high
A tower up ricing up to the sky
He carried that about a yard
But getting views was rather hard

For his clips of transportation
And hauling rocks or vegetation
His biggest score was merely ten
It was clearly time to think again
*Aha! He said, I have now realised,
Looking through the public's own eyes,
That they are most truly smittened
When a Youtube clip has been kittenened!
My backgrounds need a cute tabby cat
To watch my amazing carrying acts!*

He called up central casting
And they sent right away
A couple of cute wee catsies
In a crate from Zimbabwe
He wanted them to just lie still
And draw the viewer in
To the place upon the hill
Where he would do his thing
This task performed with all his power
Involved a pebble and a flower

Alas, a dancing dandelion
Will entrance an infant lion
Its strangely moving magic motion
(Made by hidden ant propulsion)
Is actually a guarantee
Of catty curiosity

First a southpaw
Then a north
The cub swiped his new toy
And no one heard
The ant's last word
A little plaintiff, 'Oi!'

That was the end of Anthony
I read in his obituary
His last post got a thousand views
And he made the evening news
When Grassy helped to send him off
With Number 2, Rachmaninoff
